

---

NEW PARTNERS

Kaplan & Stratton is pleased to announce the appointment of new Partners, effective 1st January 2025. Their expertise, hard work, and dedication have earned them this well-deserved recognition, strengthening the firm's ability to serve its clients. Congratulations to the new Partners on this important career milestone.

1. Eva Biegon

Eva is now a Partner in the Corporate/Commercial department with a wide experience in the Banking & Finance space with particular focus on debt finance and securitization, project finance and trade finance. She also has considerable experience in matters relating to taxation, capital markets, regulatory compliance, business establishments, legal due diligence and forensics.

Eva's client portfolio comprises local and international banks, developmental financial institutions, local and international corporate clients, property developers and foreign investors looking to establish a business presence in Kenya.

Eva Biegon is highly ranked by both IFLR 1000 and Legal 500 in Banking and Finance.

'Eva Biegon is a proactive lawyer and on the ball.' Client testimonial in Legal 500.

2. Jeanette Ngatia

Jeanette is now a Partner in the Corporate/Commercial department specializing in Private Client and Immigration law.

Over the years Jeanette has carved out a niche as an expert in the private client area of practice advising on complex inheritance and succession planning, establishing trusts and foundations, assisting in restructuring of family businesses, handling probate and administration work and drafting of Wills and other documents of a testamentary nature. She has become a trusted advisor to individuals, families and organisations seeking to preserve their wealth across generations. Jeanette also advises local and international charitable and not-for-profit organizations in Kenya on establishment, governance and compliance. She provides specialist immigration advice encompassing a range of services covering work and entry permits, special passes, dependent passes and determination of citizenship status.

Her client portfolio comprises of local and foreign High Net worth Individuals; charitable and family Trusts; local and international corporate clients and local and foreign charities and not-for-profit organizations.